Think Properly, When You Choose The Broker For You.

The professional trader should work how it is conveniently to him. He should work so, that in the course of realization of tasks in view to ensure himself the maximum comfort, considering features of the character. Knowing answers to all these questions, you can decide, what method of an exit on the American stock market is more preferable to you: system of a direct access or through the Internet broker, or any other variants.

For practical realization of your decision to earn on a stock market of the USA, it is necessary to conclude the agreement with a broker-dealer.

With what broker on what basis of criteria is it necessary to make a choice? Is it necessary to start with its reliability, offered trading platform, quality of represented services, size of commission or any other items and preferences?

Do not hurry up to open an account.

Do not hurry up to open an account. Visit some companies rendering the given type of service, talk over with people, who have been not connected in office relations with the given company. Only from them it is possible to receive the objective information. The second important factor at a company choice is the total cost of service of transaction. Brokers, to involve the investor with low commissions, often use difficult systems of count of payments. The total cost of service of transaction can seriously affect result of your financial gamble. Of what do consist commissions for the small traders, working through terminals of a direct access? It is possible to allocate three stages:

- At the registered broker the commission constitutes approximately 0.3-0.4 cents for the safety stock.
- The registered representative of the broker offers foreign partners to carry out transaction already on 0.7-0.9 cents for the safety stock.
- The foreign partner offers small traders of transaction on 1-2 cents for the safety stock.

To brokerage offices have an additional income from: widespread practice of purchase-sale to small traders of safety stocks piece by piece and by packages; lease of jobs; a payment for the software and other.

Do not be afraid to bargain.

If you have chosen active trading, do not be afraid to bargain for commissions. Even the tenth shares of cent for the safety stock can change result of your financial transactions essentially. The income of the broker depends on your readiness to take advantage of its services, instead of services of the competitor. Therefore he is forced, in reasonable limits, to meet halfway the client, reducing the incomes at all stages. If unreasonably low commissions are offered to you, it is necessary to muse of the reasons of similar altruism and to look for answers to following questions:

- What is the style of work of a given brokerage office?
- What problems can be after so "favorable" offer?

If the broker doesn't suit you anymore for any reasons or he changes trading conditions not in your advantage – do not be afraid to transfer the account to other broker. This process legislatively also is technically fulfilled and takes a minimum of time and means. For this purpose it is necessary to fill in Transfer Initiation Form (TIF) and to send it to your new broker. Wish you good luck!
